Give a reason why...

Cats need a pet bed. Cats need a warm, quiet place to nap. Cats sleep about 16 hours each day!	Cats need a pet taxi. A pet taxi or carrier keeps cats safe while riding in the car. If they were to loose, they might become frightened, escape from the car, or cause an accident.	Cats need a litterbox. Cats should live indoors and must have a quiet, private, clean place to go to the bathroom.
Cats need litter & a scoop. Cats like to dig, then bury their waste. A litter scoop helps you clean the area each day. If it smells, kitty may find someplace else to go!	Cats need toothbrush/toothpaste. Provide a dental health program to promote healthy teeth and gums that need to last your cat a lifetime.	Cats need a scratching post. Cats have a natural desire to scratch. This allows them to stretch, mark their scent, and shed the outer sheath of their claws. It will help save your couch.
Cats need cat/kitten food. It needs to be name-brand food that is well balanced to maintain your pet's health. Read food labels and check with your vet regarding daily feeding requirements.	Cats need toys. Keep kitty from being bored and overweight. Take some time each day to bond with your feline.	Cats need a brush. Regular brushing helps keep your cat's skin healthy and the coat shiny and mat-free.
Cats need a water/food dish. Cats need fresh water available at all times. Place food and water away from their litter box in a quiet, easily accessible area.	Cats need nail clippers. Trim your cat's claws every two weeks as part of his regular grooming. This keeps your furniture intact and protects you from scratches when playing with kitty.	Cats need a safety collar. Of course, it's needed for attaching your pet's I.D. tag. Safety collars stretch and pull apart to avoid choking if your cat should become caught on something.
Cats need an I.D. tag. Essential for every pet. Include your name, address, and phone number. It's your pet's ticket home if he should become lost.	Cats need treats. Simply because you love your cat! Hard, crunchy treats keep your cat's teeth healthy. Avoid overfeeding.	Cats' need a book about cats for their owners. Responsible pet owners learn all they can about their pets. Reading books helps you learn how to take good care of your pets and understand their behavior.
