Habitat Wanted!

Having a clean environment is important to people. It's also important to animals. Wild animals live in natural habitats. They need food, clean air, water, plants, and places to rest.

Imagine if wild animals could write advertisements for their perfect habitats. What would they ask for? A polar bear habitat ad might sound like this:
Wanted: a cool place up North. Need a peaceful place to rest all winter. Must have good spots for ice fishing.

Cut out the pictures below and glue them onto sheets of notebook paper. Then write a habitat ad next to each animal. Be creative! Use details to ask for a special kind of environment. (Think about the climate and food each animal needs. You may use library books to help you write your ads.)
